

Anticorruption Collection

Equip your employees to fight bribery and corruption with Broadcat's practical—and completely customizable—communication and training tools. The global-friendly materials in this collection work both online and offline to help you cut through the clutter and meet employees where they are.

STARTER PACK

Module: Hiring third parties

This module explains how you vet third parties, the time it takes, and how employees can build this into their project planning.

Hiring a new service provider?

This guide helps identify government-facing third parties and reminds employees that special procedures apply.

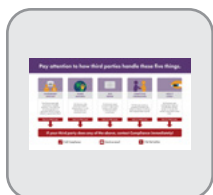

We Play Fair: Anticorruption Basics

Use this infographic to help your employees understand how your anticorruption policy applies in real life.

This is a third party

Use this graphic to clearly illustrate what a third party is to avoid any confusion.

Watch out for red flags from third parties

This infographic tells your employees what to look out for when managing third parties and who to contact for help.

Ask questions if your third party...

This graphic reminds employees when to ask questions or escalate their concerns about third parties.

Is this person a government official?

This decision tree breaks down all the elements to identify a government official so employees know what procedures to follow.

So-and-so is a government official

Use this guide to explain who's considered a government official and that you have specific rules about spending money on them.

Business gratuities: What can you give/receive?

This chart distills your gifts and entertainment policy—for both government and non-government entities.

What can you give to a government official?

This infographic uses contrasting examples to help employees understand what is and isn't appropriate to give government officials.

STARTER PACK

Invoice red flags checklist

This checklist simplifies your invoice review process by helping your teams identify red flags early on.

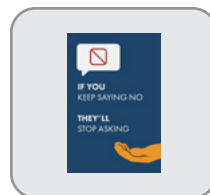

You are responsible for what you approve

This graphic reminds employees to read everything they sign and reject anything they're not comfortable with—no matter who it's for.

You've been asked to pay a bribe

Use this flowchart to prepare your teams for when someone offers them a bribe, including when their safety might be threatened.

If you keep saying no, they'll stop asking

This graphic reminds your teams to resist those seeking bribes, every time.

EXPANSION PACK

Can I give or accept this gift?

This decision tree helps employees decide whether giving or accepting a gift is okay and where to get help if they're still unsure.

Give wisely this holiday season

This graphic reminds employees about the key principles of ethical business gifts, which is especially helpful during the season of giving.

Anticorruption for salespeople

This checklist breaks down four anti-corruption areas into bite-sized bits your sales teams can digest.

Working with a charity?

This short checklist helps your employees avoid risky donations—and the resulting effect on your company's reputation.

Managing a third party?

This checklist breaks down the basics of handling day-to-day communications with third parties while being aware of red flags.

Do you know what your third parties are doing?

This graphic reminds your employees that they need to monitor third parties for red flags.